

Airline Flight Delays Analysis

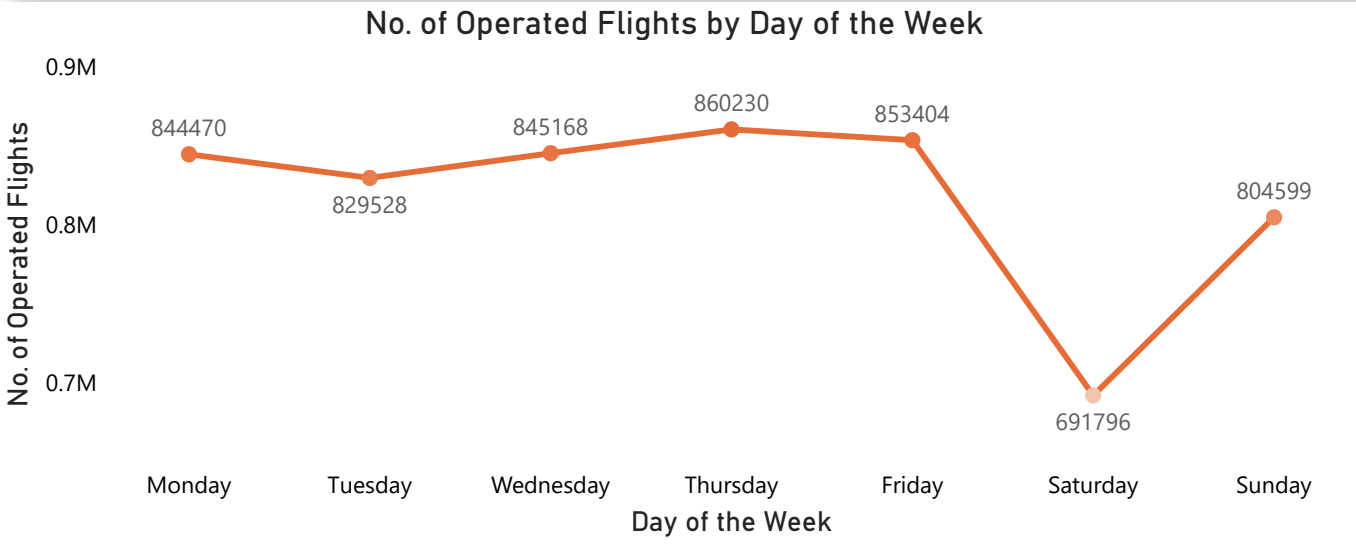

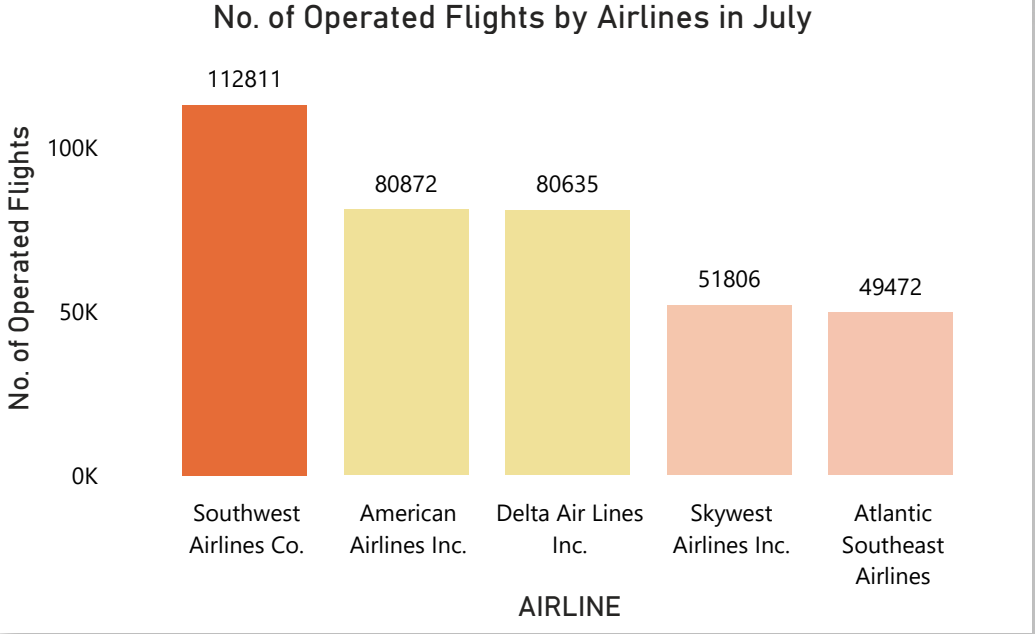

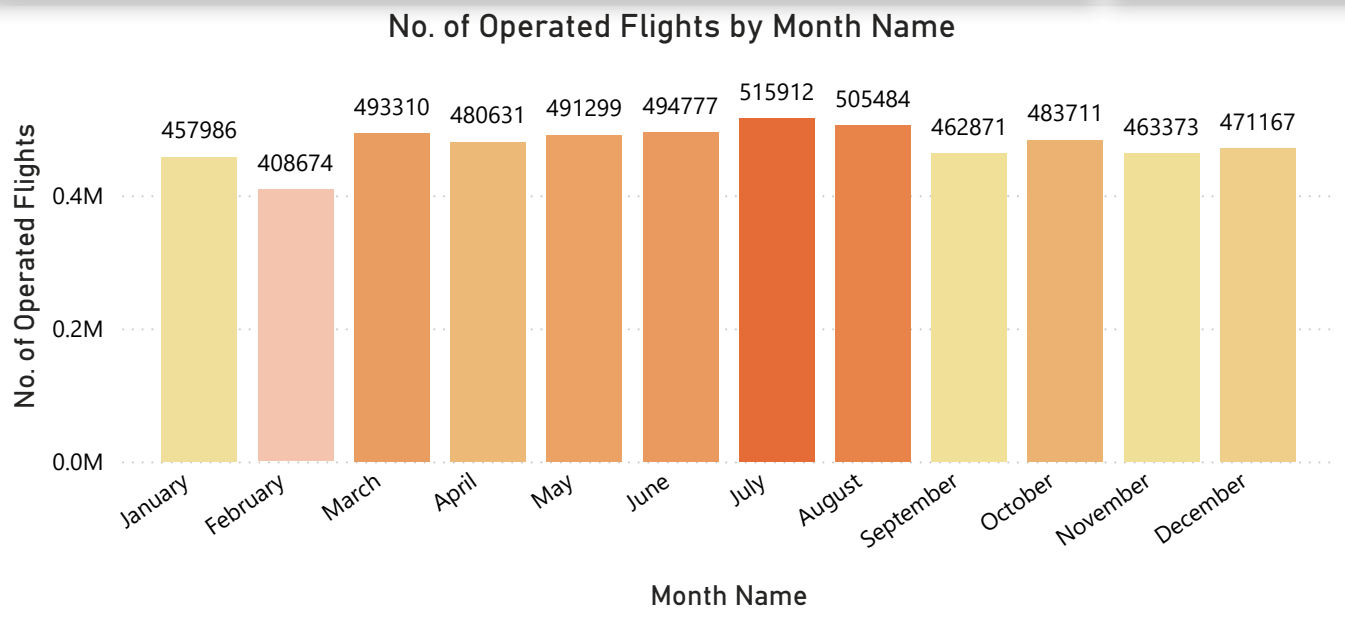

14
No. of Airlines

5819079
Total Flights

5,729,195
No. of Operated Flights

AIRLINE
All

« Quick measure

Flight Overview:

- 14 airlines operated 5.7M flights across USA in 2015
- July was the busiest month with 515,912 operated flights
- Thursday recorded the highest flight volume during the week while Saturday was the quietest day
- Southwest Airlines dominated July with 112,811 flights nearly 40% more than second placed American Airlines

2,125,618

No. of Delayed Flights

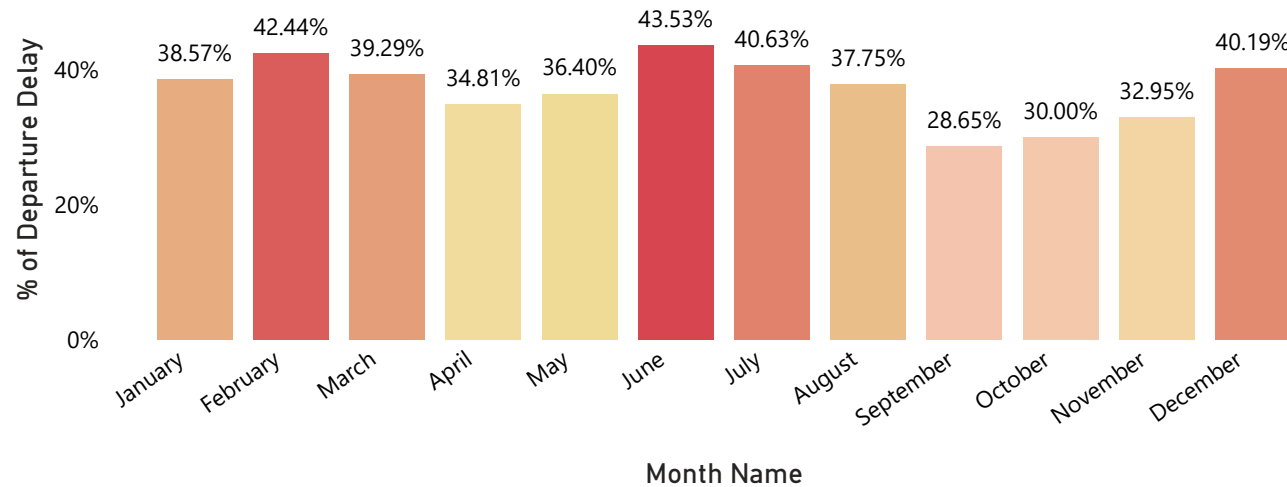

37.10%

% of Departure Delay

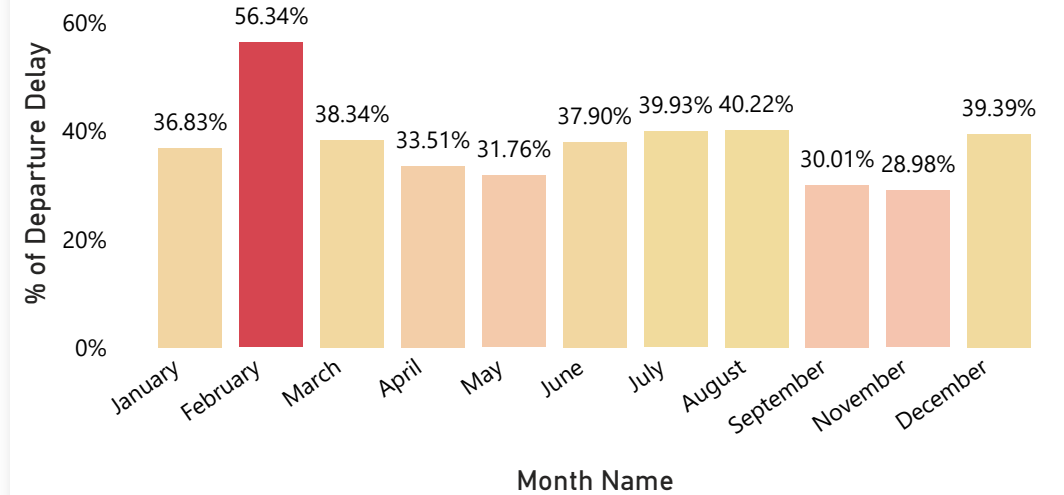

33

Avg Delay Mins

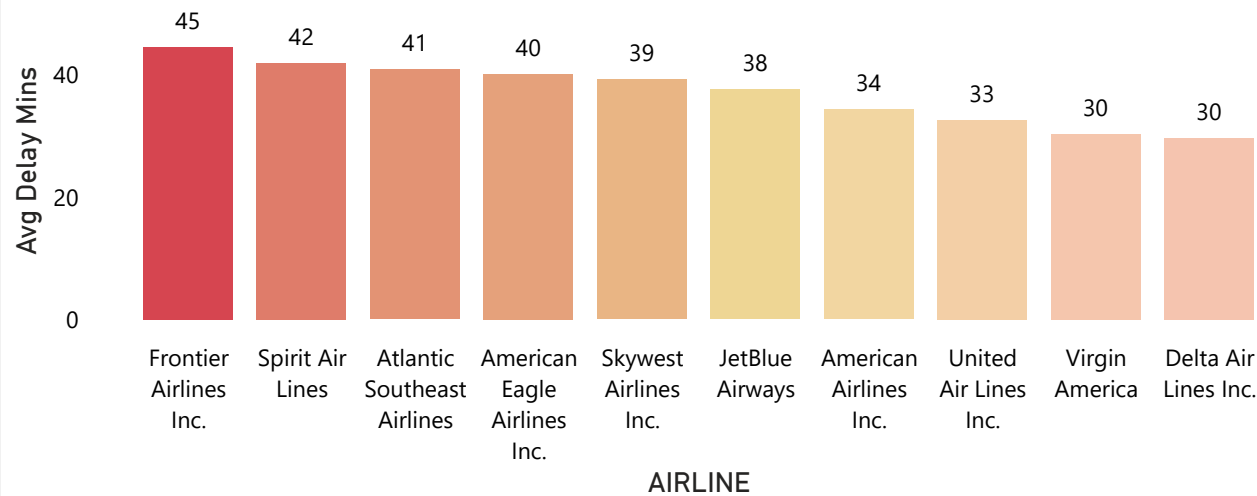

% of Delayed Flights throughout the year

% of Delayed Flights from Boston (BOS)

Avg Delay Mins by Airlines

Delay Analysis:

- 37.10% of all flights experienced a departure delay in 2015
- Average delay time was 33 minutes per delayed flight
- June had the highest delay rate at 43.53% nationally
- Boston (BOS) flights peaked in February at 56.34%
- Frontier Airlines had the worst average delay at 45 mins, 12 mins above the national average

89,884

No. of Cancelled Flights

2%

% of Cancelled Flights

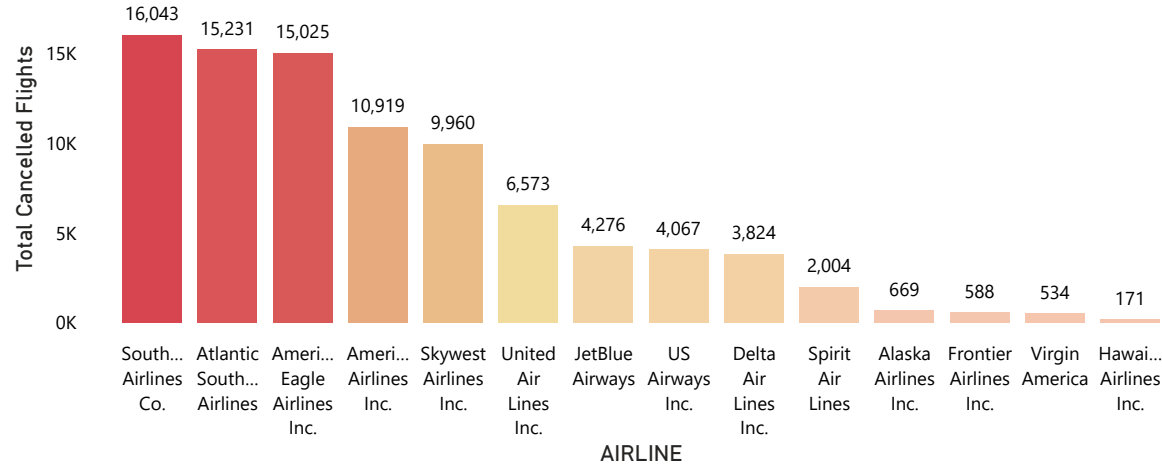

48851

Weather Cancellation

25262

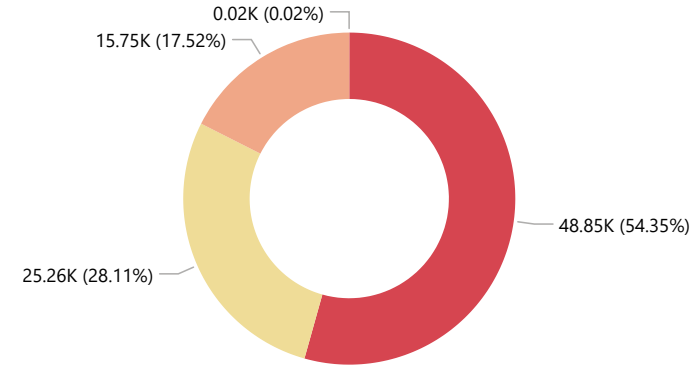

Airline/Carrier Cancellations

Total Cancelled Flights by AIRLINE

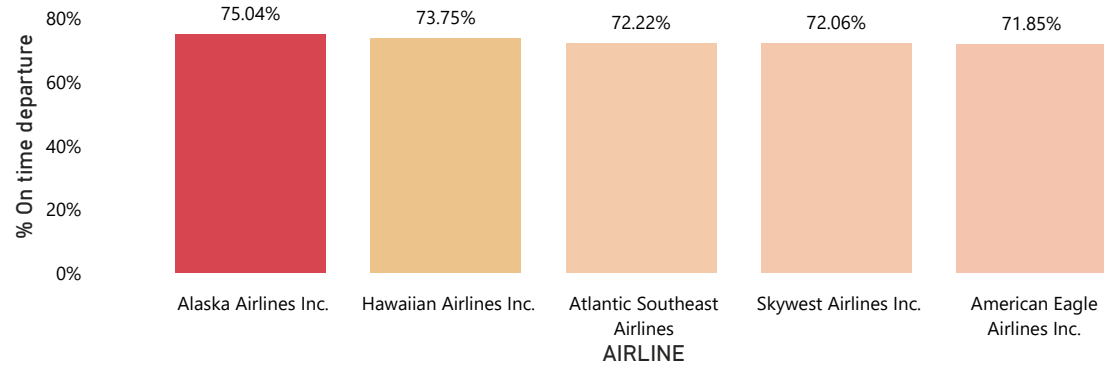

Total Cancelled Flights by Cancellation Reason

Reasons ● Weather ● Airline/Carrier ● National Air System ● Security

Top 5 Airlines %On time departure

Cancellation Analysis:

- 89,884 flights were cancelled in 2015- just 2% of all scheduled flights
- Weather was the leading cause at 54% of all cancellations
- Airline/Carrier was responsible for 28.11% of cancellations
- Southwest Airlines had the highest raw cancellations at 16,043 however this reflects their larger operation size
- Hawaii Airlines recorded just 171 cancellations- the most reliable airline for cancellations in 2015